

Hillcrest High School Performing Arts' production of The Hunchback of Notre Dame presents

Victor Hugo's Notre Dame de Paris: a podcast series

Director Joshua Long discusses Hugo's original novel which served as the source material for the musical. Mr. Long specifically pulls out the interesting and relevant details in the novel that can most affect our production this year. Listen after reading each section of the novel, or listen without having ever read the novel to get a better idea of Hugo's vision. Each episode focuses on a different section of the novel, and is between 30-60 minutes long.
